Getting Started With AWS

Setting up my AWS account took a few minutes. AWS asks for your credit card details only for to make sure you're a real person.

The first project I'm working on is Join the AWS Beginner's Challenge. I'll do the first project on the DevOps Challenge 0. I'll make time to do projects by scheduling them in my planner.

AWS Free Tier

When you sign up to AWS, you automatically get access to...

The AWS Free Tier includes three different types of free offers free trials, 12 months free, and always free.

After my 12-month Free Tier period ends, I'll still have access to always free. I'll stop getting free access to free trials. To make sure I remember this date, I will set a reminder.

Excited to share my progress! Let's connect.
